

MAYOR FURTHER EXPLAINS ZONING

Consider Matter—Whole Plan
Should be Completed and Hearings Held Before Adoption.

Mayor Canfield has filed the following letter with City Clerk Doran, in reference to city parking:

Office of the Mayor.
Kingston, N. Y., Feb. 26, 1921.
The Honorable, the Common Council of the City of Kingston.

Gentlemen:—I desire to supplement my previous communication concerning the proposed districting or zoning of the city.

Because the city has grown up like "Topsy" is no reason why such un-planned and unrestricted growth should continue. The cities have awakened just recently to the fact that there must be a proper and fair regulation of building development to prevent the spoliation or deterioration of residential sections, to stabilize property values, to provide definite

The proper ownership of land and property does not involve the use of it by the owner for any and all purposes he may deem desirable without regard to the public and other property owners in the vicinity. The owners of homes on a block or a street may have their respective values decreased fifty per cent by the erection of a factory or other building not in har-

The proposed ordinance applies to new buildings and construction and is a necessary protection to all owners of property whether now built upon or not; with the zoning of the city decided, new streets and schools and park grounds, when necessary can be laid out upon a definite and exact basis. The fire limits can be arranged to cover the proper districts. Also it establishes a sound basis for mortgage loans, and thus

The establishment of use districts is only done after a careful study of present conditions of the city and the tendencies of growth. The neighborhood meetings and conference should be held in each of the original principal sections of the city in an endeavor to reach an agreement as to what protection is for the best interest of the property owners in each neighborhood. Then the whole plan is completed and a public hearing agreement to build better and more attractive residences and to improve present residences. The guaranty is that the business sections will always continue to be such, causes the owners to develop the lands and properties in such sections.

Such a districting of factories, business buildings and residences is of benefit to the owners and occupants of each class. It is an encouragement to build better and more substantial buildings.

I strongly urge that you refer the matter to a committee to give proper consideration to the same.
Respectfully,
PALMER CANFIELD, JR.,
Mayor.

CHAPTER EIGHT.

"Down in our occasional hill we are descending to the joint band with our reinforcements. American labor is building more and more channels to the manufacture of machines—automated tools and elaborate systems and instruments and the kind of rich upholstery and even close knit cotton and sporting goods and great variety houses—so that there is not enough labor to provide the necessities and luxuries of life.

tion. Why could you not have listened to the counsel of Bonnet in June instead of in September, and thus have saved these long months of hardship and bitter violence? I was because the spirit of Tyranny had entered your heart and put your judgment in chains. It had blinded you to honor also. For you men were working under contract. If the union is to command the support of honest men, it must be honest. It was Tyranny that turned the treaty with Belgium into a scrap of paper. That kind of a thing will not go here. Let me, however, say that Tyranny has right to be in this land of ours. We remind me of the Prodigal Son who had to know the taste of hunger and the companionship of swine before he came to himself. Do you not know that Tyranny is swine and the feddled of swine? It is simply human degradation.

"I have one thing more to say and I am finished: Mr. Ding, some day ago you threw up your religion with out realising the effect that such an act would be likely to produce on the community. You are, no doubt, aware that many followed your example. I've got no preaching to do. I'm just going to quote you a few words from an authority no less remarkable than George Washington Edmund. Our history has made one fact very clear, namely, that he was a wise and successful man."

OGDEN F. WINNE DIED SUNDAY

Ogden F. Winne, of the hardware firm of L. S. Winne & Company, of No. 225 Wall street, died Sunday morning at his home, No. 185 Albany avenue, in his 64th year. Death followed a stroke of paralysis which he sustained on Thursday evening as he was about to leave his store. He had been in poor health for several months, during which he was under treatment of a specialist in New York city, who diagnosed his trouble as Bright's disease. His illness affected his eyesight and he lost his sight when stricken with paralysis.

Mr. Winne for many years has been one of the best known and most popular business men of Ulster county. For nearly half a century he was connected with the hardware business, during most of the time as a member of the firm of L. S. Winne & Company, of which his brother, Levan S. Winne, also is a member. For a number of years Mr. Winne traveled through Ulster and adjoining counties for the firm, and made many acquaintances. His jovial disposition and strict adherence to business principles made many warm friends for him, and he was universally liked.

Ogden F. Winne was a son of the late Benjamin J. Winne of this city, and Sarah Simpson of the town of Shandaken, his wife. His father for many years conducted the Eagle Hotel in this city and was one of the best known hotel men in this section of New York state. Ogden F. Winne was born in Michigan, where his parents had moved some time after their marriage, but came to Kingston with them when a boy and spent practically his entire life in Kingston. He was interested in the development of Kingston and for many years was a member of the board of trade and subsequently of the chamber of commerce. A number of years ago he was elected a trustee of the Ulster County Savings Institution, which position he held at the time of his death. He was deeply interested in dramatic matters and for many years was a member of Wiltwyck High School, in whose affairs he took an active interest. He was one of the oldest members, in point of years, of the Kingston Club.

The funeral will take place from his late residence, No. 185 Albany avenue, on Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Van Valkenburgh Agency with offices at No. 44 Main street. Superintendent Van Valkenburgh has been connected with the McIntee agency for the past nineteen years, and is one of the best posted men in insurance in this city. For the past few years he has served the McIntee agency as manager.

Model Butts, hero of the Klondike murder case, which attracted world-wide attention in 1911, has arrived in New York from Europe to make his home. Butts was acquitted in the famous murder trial, but failing against him was on high to Klondike that he left Klondike immediately after making his freedom. The charge was out of the murder, on March 11, 1911, of Andrew Goodrich, an eight year old Christian boy, in a Klondike return. Anger against the Jew had been increasing in Klondike because of the opinion of the "Black Hand" and the authorities prominently asked an opportunity to follow the statement by bringing a trial murder charge against the Jewish community. He was arrested, charged with the crime, and the trial, which lasted thirty-four days, attracted national correspondence from all parts of the world.

ELLENVILLE

Ellenville, Feb. 28.—The basketball game at Northbury Hall on Friday evening between the Port Jervis and Ellenville High School teams was an extremely fast game. The score was 22 to 15 in favor of E. H. F. Lloyd Whitson starred in this game and guarded Paul, the best forward on the Port Jervis team. Very officious.

On Friday afternoon the five boys running when the broke out at Herman Lovin's on the Cape road. The five company quickly responded and many spectators rushed to the scene, only to be disappointed by the fact that the fire, which was simply a chimney fire, had been extinguished. The firehouse crew of the Ellenville High School held a calm ride at George Horvath's place on Saturday afternoon. The proceeds were for the benefit of the club. Mrs. Anna Horvath spent the week end at the home of Mrs. Ruth Lander at Cherry Heights. Mrs. Ellen Torp has been confined to her home for several days with an attack of the grip. Mrs. Arthur Anderson, who has been attending Mrs. Ed O'Hall during her illness, returned to her home in Brooklyn on Saturday. Mrs. O'Hall is now well on the road to recovery.

SURGERY AND EDUCATION.

Kaplan's Family Reunion at Synagogue. The audience that crowded the synagogue Sunday evening was treated to a rare and highly entertaining program of singing by the young cantor, Eliezer Kaplan. He has a rich sweet voice which made the Jewish hymns and songs which he sang beautiful and touching. His singing of "The Transport of Zion" brought the audience to tears. Mr. Kaplan was presented upon to give another concert soon and he promised to do so. The chairman of the evening was Robert Beck, of the local Talmud

Torah. Being that the concert was for the benefit of Talmud Torah, Robert Beck thought it appropriate to have a talk on Jewish education, and after his own free introduction, Eliezer Kaplan of Albany delivered a talk on Jewish education. A rare treat was also a song by the Rev. J. Kaplan, the father of both the singer and speaker of the evening and the local cantor. His song was very enthusiastically received. Were Not There. Mrs. Jessie Norrison of Olive Bridge drove in on Friday and her son, Robert, did not attend John Alexander's birthday party, they having been busy among the guests in a previous issue of The Freeman.

THEY WORE THE

Will Wear the Colors of the Tail Between. At a meeting of the Kingston Tailor-Union Association, Inc., an organization of those employed by the Kingston Tailor-Union, it was decided that every employee of the Kingston Tailor-Union must be carried in a handsome "tailor-made" uniform within the next thirty days with a pair of overalls to cover them when making two changes. The style and material for the uniform have been selected and the contract awarded to a local firm of tailors. Contrasting on this, President W. ...

H. Ten Branch said: "Yes! the boys have decided to purchase a new uniform and the management is pleased that you men feel such pride in the tail service which each of them conscientiously assisted in establishing and maintaining; but they have decided also that the night managers as well as myself must also be carried in suits made from the same cloth. Therefore, we have nothing to do but follow their instructions, as such matters are left to their decision and I have little to say except, 'well, something new, certainly, 'erect, only four to that they may further decree that Mrs. Ten Branch shall also wear a suit of the same cloth and our building' a blanket in ..."

MAY MOVE ULSTER OFFICES

Wall Street Changes May Result In Kingston's Ceasing To Be Of Much Importance In Engineering Or Claims Matters Of New York Water Supply.

It is rumored that unless sufficient office room can be obtained, the Kingston office of the corporation counsel of the city of New York will be discontinued after the first of April, when Charles S. Wood will remove his store from the Crosby building to the store now occupied as corporation counsel's offices in the Ulster County Savings Institution building at No. 282 Wall street.

The corporation counsel of New York city has maintained offices in Kingston since the Ashokan condemnation proceedings began in 1907. For some time the commissions held hearings at the court house, where they distributed themselves in various rooms when court was not in session, the hearings at times being held in the court room, sometimes in the supreme court library and at other times in the county court chambers, supervisors' rooms and other offices. The office of the clerk of commissions at that time was a small room now forming part of the living apartments of Night Rider Seth Jocelyn. The local counsel for the city of New York maintained offices in the Ulster County Savings Institution building across the street from the court house, adjoining the present offices, in the store which had been vacated by E. T. Stelle. After remaining vacant for some time, that store was made part of the present banking room.

About 1911 the corporation counsel leased the vacant store which has since been used for law offices and commission room. The store for many years had been occupied by the firm of Forsyth & Wilson, and later by its successor, Forsyth & Davis. Later in was occupied by the china firm of Gordon & Blowers, after which it was occupied intermittently by different firms which came to Kingston to hold special sales. Since it has been under lease by the city of New York, practically all the Ashokan commissions have held their sessions there, as well as some of the Schoharie and Greene county commissions. Hearings in the trial cases arising from the acquisition of land for the Schoharie reservoir and Shandaken tunnel are still being held there. All of the Ashokan and other records are in the Wall street office, which are still visited weekly by scores of Ulster county claimants.

At various times there has been talk of closing the Ulster county office compelling all claimants and their attorneys to transact their business in New York city, but such suggestions have met with strong opposition on the part of claimants and lawyers. The Schoharie commissions during the summer have held part of their hearings at Stamford, which was conveniently situated for some of the claimants and the remainder of the hearings in Kingston, but all records connected with those cases, together with the records of the Ulster county cases have been kept at the Wall street office. Access to such records is still sought at frequent intervals by residents of Ulster county.

MAY MOVE—It is possible that if the Kingston office is closed, offices for the corporation counsel may be opened at Stamford. Such a move undoubtedly would be followed by removal from Kingston of the engineering offices which have been maintained here since 1907 and their consolidation with the engineering offices at Grand Gorge. Connected with the engineering offices, which are located in the Corbets building, adjoining the court house, are the offices of the bureau of claims. Undoubtedly this would result in the removal from Kingston to Grand Gorge or other nearby villages of all the families whose heads are connected with those offices. So far as being identified with the Ashokan or Schoharie water projects of New York city, Kingston would be only a memory.

With New Paltz in The Lead—Home Bureau Drive Closing.

The reports of the second Home Bureau Canvass Day were even larger than the first one and the county total is now 1,279. Wawarsing has made remarkable progress and has almost reached Clintonville for fourth place.

INSULTED NO ONE.

The Rev. Mr. Cavanaugh Has Preached on Streets for 40 Years.

Kingston, Feb. 28, 1921.

The Editor of The Freeman:

I am enclosing a statement from Mr. Cavanaugh, who is the preacher that was accused of insulting a lady while preaching on the street by one who signed his name a Passer-by. The item was printed in the Saturday issue of The Freeman, the 19th I have known Mr. Cavanaugh for fifteen years and never knew him to insult any one. He has been preaching on the streets for forty years and never was known to insult any one. Will you be kind enough to give his statement a place in your paper?

Yours very sincerely,

J. E. NORRIS.

Pastor of Free Methodist Church, 130 Bruyn avenue.

The statement referred to follows:

In answer to the article in the Kingston Saturday Daily, I will say the gentleman is mistaken. I said nothing about blue laws but said a Christian will remember the Sabbath Day and keep it holy. I also said a Christian has one wife, one husband—I did not speak to any one personally, neither lady or man—only when I gave out tracts, I would speak privately and ask if they were Christians. At nearly every meeting a policeman stood by. I did say take hugging out of dancing and it would stop; also let men dance by themselves and they would not dance many sets. No, I preached a real salvation sermon, that men will pay their debts and get right with their mother-in-law. No reasonable person would find fault with that. This world needs a revival of old time repentance that cleans up crooked lives.

GERMANY GIVES UP MUCH COAL

Heads List of Goods Yielded to Allies Under Treaty.

DYESTUFFS NEXT ON LIST

Detailed List of Supplies Turned Over to Allies is Made Public by Reparations Body—Largest Share Goes to France, Belgium West and Italy Third—Dyestuffs and Lories Allocated to the United States—Seventeen Cables Delivered.

Paris.—A detailed list of the various deliveries made by Germany to the allies in execution of the treaty of Versailles during the first year it was in force has just been issued by the reparations commission. The deliveries were made on the reparations account up to December 31. The chief item is coal, amounting in all to 17,818,840 tons. Next in importance on the list are dyestuffs, of which 10,787,827 kilos were delivered.

Other deliveries were: Steamers, sailing vessels and fishing boats, 2,054,720 tons; inland navigation materials, 38,750 tons; live stock, 300,176 head; seed, 6,992,588 kilos; ammonium sulphate, 10,000 tons; pharmaceutical products, 57,823 kilos; rolling stock, 4,571 trucks, 120,555; motor lorries, 5,000; fixed railway materials, 140,000 tons; agricultural machinery, 131,505.

Restitution of Articles Seized.

In addition to the deliveries placed to her credit, article 238 of the treaty provides that Germany shall effect restitution of objects of every nature and securities and cash taken away, seized or sequestered.

The records for the year show the following deliveries under this article: To France: Agricultural machinery, 15,546 machines; industrial machinery, 134,161 tons; locomotives, 13; trucks, 6,031.

To Belgium: Agricultural machinery, 14 machines; industrial machinery, 87,046 tons; locomotives, 394; trucks, 12,897.

There has also been restoration in other things, including certain securities and a quantity of furniture and objects of art, but no figures are given.

Seventeen Cables Delivered.

The list contains various cables which have been delivered and which have not yet been allocated by the expert conference at Washington, to which the work was entrusted. In all there are 17 cables in various parts of the world.

The commission points out that while valuations have been reached on most of these, certain questions of principle remain undetermined. It is also explained that the figures recently published of German payments against the 20,000,000,000 gold marks under article 235 of the treaty are much greater than the real figures.

The allocation by the reparations commission of Germany's deliveries shows that France received the largest share, with Belgium second and Italy third. The United States appears on the list with two items—dyestuffs, of which she received 1,300,143 kilos, and lorries, numbering 1,314.

Great Britain received 1,477,830 gross tons of shipping and 3,113,802 kilos of dyestuffs and 1,243 lorries. England did not share in any of the other deliveries.

France received 14,210,582 tons of coal; Italy, 1,618,394 tons; Belgium, 1,601,626, and Luxembourg, 558,068 tons.

Post Fled to Mexico With Girl He Met in France During War.

In Monterey, Mexico, where the long arm of the United States immigration inspector and the tongue of gossip cannot bother them, Madeline Babin, young French girl, and Leo Shipper, Missouri writer and poet, are attempting to live out a romance begun in France during the war.

Mrs. Mary Woodson Shipper, the poet's wife, is cohabiting at Kansas City, Mo., from nervous prostration which followed her husband's announcement that he loved a French girl and expected his wife to obtain a divorce.

ESCORT RETURNED FOR RINGS

Warned Women to Leave Them at Home Because of Feudal Threat.

At the advice of her escort, John Burke, Mrs. Katherine L. Gibbons of Cleveland, O., left her diamond rings at the home of friends before going to the theater. The rings were gone when she returned.

The casual mention by Mrs. Gibbons that Burke left the theater in the second act and returned late caused police to arrest him. He was released and returned to police headquarters to demand an apology. The police, becoming suspicious, returned him and found the rings in his possession.

Three Wife Out to Give Friends Aid.

In her suit for divorce against Samuel A. Anderson of Washington, Pa., C. Anderson, seventeen-year-old daughter, declared her husband forced her from her bedroom in the middle of the night so that five of his business associates could use the room.

'BLUNT' KEARSARGE PASSES AS WARSHIP

Naval Wonder of Spanish War Days Becomes Only a Pleading Craneship.

Launched amid the Spanish war stir of 1905, the old battleship Kearsarge, then expected to revolutionize naval warfare, has passed out of the fighting line of the navy without ever having fired a gun in anger.

The big ship, a giant of her own day, was thrust aside long ago as a naval "freak." Memories that lurked in her historic name, proud imaginings of her future that filled the press at her launching, could not save her. She is to become "Naval Craneship No. 1," a peaceful, plodding handmaiden to the fighting craft of today and tomorrow. Beside them she will be almost a pigmy ship.

At League Island navy yard the old ship of the line is being stripped of war gear and military trappings. Guns that have fought only mimic battles are going to the scrap heap. The great superimposed turrets that housed them—a new word in naval architecture when installed—are being torn out. Cage masts must go by the board. Steel walks of the conning tower will disappear. Much of the side armor will be stripped away, and only the hull and engines will be left.

On this base will rise a monster electric crane capable of lifting 250 tons. To support it the ship's sides are to be bulged to a beam of 92 feet amidships, as compared to the 72 feet of her fighting days. The lifting machine will be used to hoist aboard modern battleship sections of the three-gun turrets for 16-inch rifles, which weigh 200 tons, and the great rifles themselves.

Proceeding under her own power, the former Kearsarge will go from yard to yard as needed, being used where no shore crane of sufficient size is available. She will have storage space on deck for two complete three-gun turrets and haul them to destination as well as swing them into place.

Driven insane by a sudden meeting with a sweetheart she had jilted 22 years ago, Mrs. Grace Dreyer of Kenosha, Wis., became violently insane and later was taken to an asylum.

Twenty-two years ago Mrs. Dreyer—then Grace Standard—and Ben Ames were much in each other's company. While friends were expecting announcement of their engagement, Miss Standard suddenly married Otto Dreyer, a merchant of Flint, Mich.

Mrs. Dreyer met Ames face to face in Kenosha when she went there to act as bridesmaid at a wedding.

BILLS TO CURB LOBBYISTS

Measures Would Require Report of All Money Received and Expended.

Two bills designed to circumscribe the activities of lobbyists in Washington have been introduced in the senate, one by Senator Kenyon (Rep.) of Iowa, and the other by Senator Overman (Dem.) of North Carolina.

Both would require lobbyists to register and report the money received and expended by them and its source.

According to reports from Washington, George W. Aldridge of Rochester will be tendered the position of collector of the port of New York by President Harding. He is said to have the solid backing of the New York state Republican organization of Labor.

000 KNIGHTS

AT COMMUNION

Tenth Annual Event of Kingston

Council, K. of C. Biggest Yet—

Breakfast and Good Speaking Fel-

lowed.

Six hundred members of Kingston

Council Knights of Columbus attended the annual communion of that society at St. Peter's Church

Sunday morning at 8 o'clock. The Rev. J. P. Neumann, rector of the church, celebrated a special Mass and the Holy Name Choir of St.

Joseph's Church rendered the musical program.

Following the Mass about 350

knights went to St. Peter's Hall where a communion breakfast was served by Casper Kettner. At the conclusion of the meal the Hon.

William H. Greaves who acted as toastmaster introduced Father Neumann who delivered a very witty and eloquent address giving much good advice to the men on their duties as Catholics.

The next speaker was Prof. John

T. Loughran who in a masterful and brilliant address held his hearers for considerable time.

A visiting knight, John Neuner of Bayonne, N. J., gave a humorous address and told some good stories.

He was followed by John E. Mahar who in a brief talk, dwelt on the need of some work in behalf of the boys.

The last speaker was the grand knight John C. Mahoney, who thanked all present for their attendance and also all those who had helped to make the affair a success.

Between the speeches Frank

Tierney rendered several vocal solos

in a most pleasing manner being accompanied on the piano by John

Bott.

The assemblage dispersed with the promise of a larger gathering

MILLER TRANSIT PLAN HEARING

On Wednesday Will Bring Out Big Opposition to Governor—By Instrument to be Made Party Member—Governor Not Going to Instrument.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Albany, Feb. 23.—Governor Miller
will learn first hand on Wednesday what the people of the state think of his traction program and his proposal to reorganize the up-state public service commission.

Led by United States Senator Hillam Johnson of California, who has been imported specially for the occasion, and Mayor Hyland, New York city municipal authorities will launch their fight against the governor's suggestion that a transit commission
be named to take over supervision and regulation of New York city's transit.

Their chief objections will be that the program violates home rule, will mean increased fares, may force the city to purchase traction utilities it doesn't want and refuses the city a voice in continuing or discontinuing existing franchises which they will claim gives the proposed commission
right to abrogate.

Up-state cities through their corporation counsels and the state mayors' conference have already gone on record as opposed to the governor's reorganization of the public service commission. They view too with some alarm the possibility that enactment of the transit part of the program will eventually bring up-state traction within the juisdiction of the proposed commission or a similar body named for upstate.

Chambers of commerce and various other civic organizations are expected to line up with the Republican legislative leaders in support of the entire program.

The hearing gives promise of being one of the largest ever held in the legislative halls in Albany.

Little work is expected to be done in the legislature outside of the hearings scheduled. Many of the lawmakers plan going to the Harding inauguration at Washington, although Governor Miller will not be in attendance at the inaugural ceremonies.

The Republican majority in order to insure passage of the prohibition enforcement program, recommended by the governor, will caucus on the Mullan-Gage bills and make them party measures. The senate caucus is scheduled for tonight. The Assembly Republicans will caucus on the measure after the session tomorrow. Some changes have been made in the measures to remove the more objectionable features. The bills have been reported out of the assembly executive committee. Like action is forecasted in the senate.

Father Kelly, the "fighting chaplain" will be the principal speaker tomorrow on the hearing of the measure giving world war veterans civil service preference in the state employ. The hearing will be held before the joint judiciary committee.

Delay Near East Decision.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

London, Feb. 23.—Final decision

by the Allies on Near East problems

probably will be postponed until after the indemnity conference. The Greek premier demanded time to submit the question to the Greek assembly for a vote. This would require about one week.

FRUIT GROWERS

Will Hold Important Meeting in Chicago, April 5.

A national conference of fruit
growers is to be held in Chicago, starting April 5. The call for the conference of fruit growers and co-operative fruit marketing associations is for the purpose of revising plans that will simplify and improve the marketing of all fruits produced in the United States, and has just been issued by the American Farm Bureau Federation. It is the outgrowth of the movement started by the American Pomological Society in Columbus
last December, and brought to a definite conclusion. No meeting of fruit growers has ever had greater potential significance than this conference,
in April, and matters of vital concern
to the profit making side of fruit growing will be dealt with. It is expected that there will be record breaking attendance from all parts of the country.

Oldsmobile
23-YEAR
Over-Size and Power
at Low Cost

When you want to use it, you will be agreeably surprised to find a surplus of power in the Oldsmobile Four that will carry you through any emergency of road or traffic.

And that the tonneau has actually as much space as some seven-passenger cars.

The reason is that the Oldsmobile Four was designed deliberately for the average American family, who like a moderate-priced car of size and power beyond what they normally need.

And it is also built to endure so stoutly that the pleasure of the final cost of the extra service will eclipse even that of its attractive purchase price.

It will well repay your time to let us show
you why the Oldsmobile Four is so readily accepted as a better value.

YOUR PUBLIC SERVICE

Few people realize the relation of a Gas and Electric Company to the community it serves.

The fact is that through your Legislature in Albany you have established a Public Service Commission to regulate the business of the Gas and Electric Company. You have given them authority to fix rates for gas and electric service and to pass on all questions relating to valuation of property and the issue of Stocks and Bonds of the Company.

This Commission by a recent order, fixed a valuation for the Company's property far less than the amount that was on the Company's books, and greatly below the present cost of reproduction.

When it became apparent that Gas Service could no longer be furnished at the rate established 10 years ago, the Company was obliged to seek an increase in order to continue Service to the public. Two hearings were held by the Commission, books and records were submitted and everyone was given an opportunity to be heard. Recognizing the necessity for some relief the Commission allowed only part of the increase which was asked for by the Company, and provided in their order that the rate could be further revised if found, on trial, to be inadequate.

It appears then, that the valuation of the Company's property and the rates for Gas service have been fixed by the people of Kingston, through the authority of their Legislature. The reason that the increase was given is because it had been found that Gas service to the public is not possible unless the rate will allow a Company to finance its operations. The public suffers if rates are too low. In effect the Company is simply operating the property for the benefit of the public.

It is still a question whether the rates allowed are sufficient to finance the needs of the community. During all this discussion there has been no suggestion of profit to the Stockholders whose money is tied up in the investment.
